EXPLORE WITH NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC- Because How You See It Matters

A LEGACY OF EXCELLENCE

An exclusive collaboration with National Geographic blends their legendary spirit of exploration with Lindblad Expeditions' 50+ years of expedition heritage.

Unmatched expertise—veteran captains, expert guides and National Geographic Experts,* with 110+ team members contributing a decade or more of fleet experience.

Rigorous safety protocols, tested and trusted in the world's most remote regions—from Antarctica to the Arctic and beyond.

*Available on select departures.

SEE MORE. LEARN MORE. DO MORE.

Exploration without limits: all activities are included—from kayaking to paddle boarding and snorkeling—with options for any pace and skill level.

Photography instruction from National Geographic photographers* and certified photo experts—so you return home with your best photos.

Ideal for multi-generational travel, with diverse activities and the exclusive National Geographic Global Explorers program,* which teaches kids under 18 to explore like scientists.

LINDBLAD EXPEDITIONS

SHIPS BUILT FOR AWE

The largest and most diverse fleet in expedition cruising: 22 small ships built to explore beyond the reach of large cruise ships.

An award-winning culinary program that emphasizes destination-inspired cuisine and fresh, locally sourced ingredients.

Rejuvenating wellness program featuring tailored treatments that incorporate natural ingredients from the surrounding lands and waters.

PIONEERING RESPONSIBLE EXPLORATION

Committed to preserving the natural and cultural heritage of every destination through the Lindblad Expeditions-National Geographic Fund.

Continuously minimizing the fleet's environmental footprint with advanced technologies and best-in-class practices.

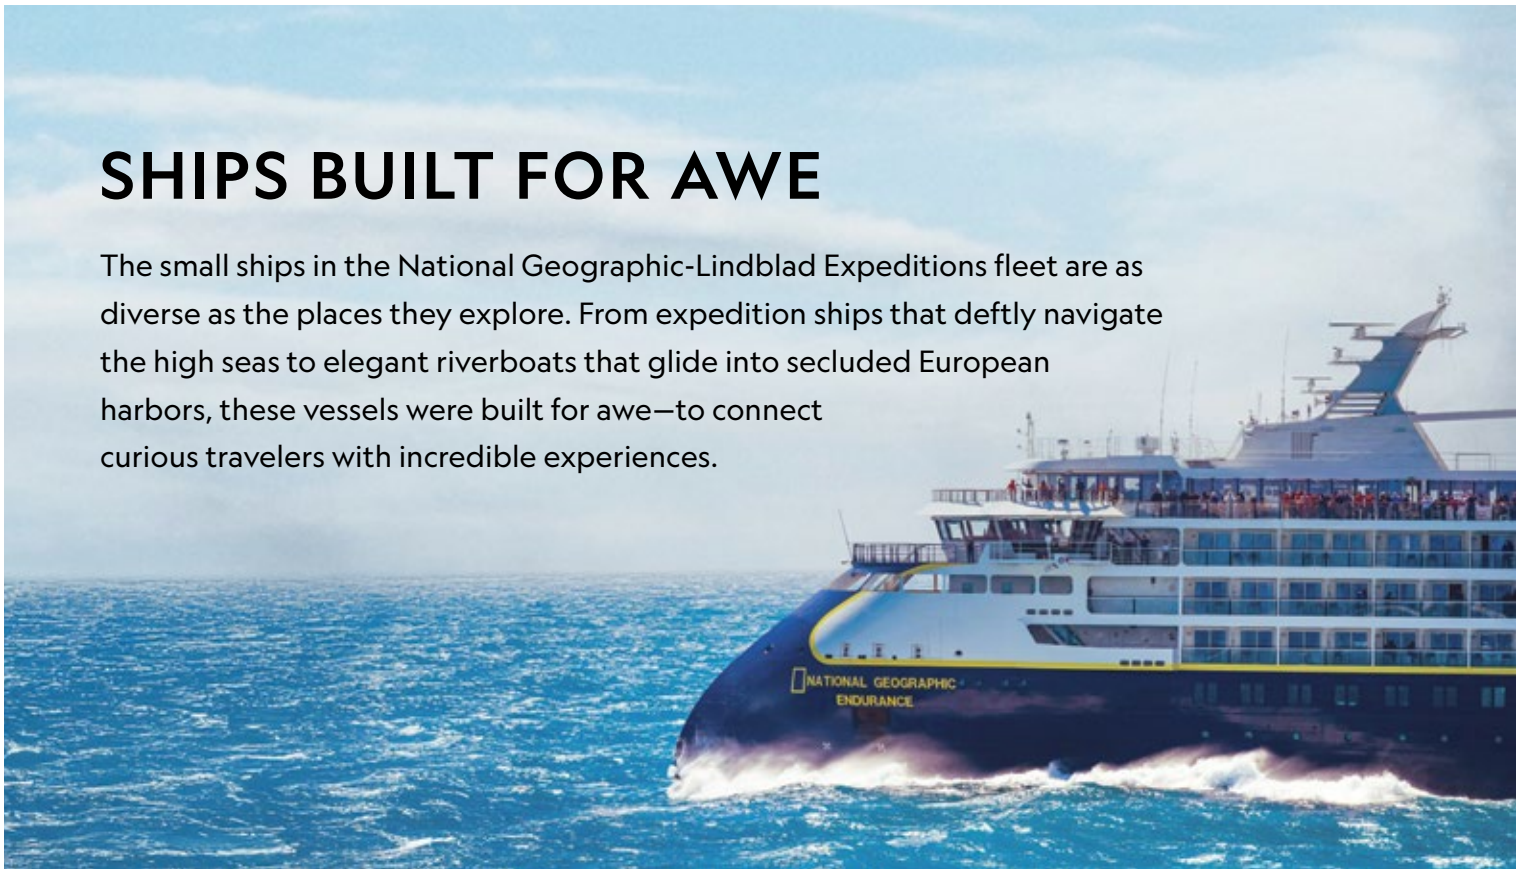

SAIL WITH PEACE OF MIND—VIRTUALLY EVERYTHING IS INCLUDED.

From excursions and engaging talks to meals, onboard amenities, airport transfers, Wi-Fi and much more—the fleet's inclusions encompass a full expedition experience.

SHIPS BUILT FOR AWE

The small ships in the National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions fleet are as diverse as the places they explore. From expedition ships that deftly navigate the high seas to elegant riverboats that glide into secluded European harbors, these vessels were built for awe—to connect curious travelers with incredible experiences.

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC ENDURANCE

Informed by 55+ years of expedition heritage, this state-of-the-art, 138-passenger vessel gets you closer to the world's most remote places for the ultimate travel experience—delivered in supreme comfort and stability. She is able to navigate polar passages year-round and safely explore uncharted waters, and the wave-slicing technology of her patented X-bow® ensures the smoothest ride possible. Superb amenities—such as a chef's table dining experience, infinity hot tubs, saunas and twin glass igloos equipped for overnight stays—ensure luxuriant days at sea.

EXPERIENCE EUROPE FROM A NEW PERSPECTIVE

Voyages with National Geographic-Lindblad Expeditions are thoughtfully curated to reveal a fresh perspective on Europe. In the northern reaches of the continent—far from tourist hotspots—you’ll discover a more intimate side of this beloved region, exploring on excursions that bring you up close to its raw beauty and storied seafaring cultures.

Seek Out Scotland’s Big Five

At Inverewe Gardens on the Isle of Skye, see unusual plants flourishing in a subtropical climate, and seek out the Scottish “big five”—red squirrel, red deer, otter, seal and golden eagle.

(See pg. 13)

Raise a Glass Off the Grid

On tiny Inverie—a Scottish town only accessible by sea or strenuous hike—stop for a pint at the community-owned Old Forge, the most remote pub in the British Isles.

(See pg. 18)

Try Your Hand at Hurling

Visit a hurling club in Cobh for a demonstration of this stick-and-ball game with Gaelic origins. Meet the players, then try your hand at passing the sliotar down the field. (See pg. 17)

Get a Bird's Eye View of the Lofoten Islands

Jagged peaks tower above colorful fishing villages in the magical Lofoten archipelago. Get an aerial view of these coastal landscapes on a hike to an iconic overlook. (See pg. 14)

Visit Sweden's First Marine Park

Established in 2009, Kosterhavet National Park harbors roughly 6,000 species in its reefs, algae forests and eelgrass meadows. Spend two days island hopping, kayaking and hiking amid the reserve's pristine seas. (See pg. 15)

THE AZORES REVEALED: 7 REASONS TO VISIT NOW

From basalt peaks and bubbling hot springs to world-class wine and legendary tales of pirates and seafarers, the Azores is a destination like no other. Venture through the North Atlantic to explore Portugal's hidden isles before the rest of the world discovers their secrets.

Take in Surreal Volcanic Vistas

The Azores sits atop a geothermal hotspot at the meeting point of three tectonic plates. On hikes and walks, you'll traverse otherworldly volcanic landscapes, from craggy lava fields and gem-like crater lakes to soaring sea cliffs and black-sand beaches.

Vibrant Cultural Traditions

The archipelago is a rich cultural melting pot, shaped by the diverse visitors who have laid roots here over the centuries. Discover the unique identity that has emerged here while exploring traditions like winemaking and cheesemaking, and immerse yourself in a way of life that has remained mostly unchanged for centuries.

PORTUGAL

Explore the “Hawaii of Europe”

The Azores’ lush volcanic landscapes and temperate climate often earn comparisons to the Hawaiian Islands. While the natural treasures attract regional travelers, the archipelago receives far fewer visitors than its Pacific counterpart.

Uncover a Fascinating Seafaring History

During the Age of Exploration, the islands were a vital stop for repairs and resupply for ships traveling between the Old and New Worlds. Their strategic location also fueled the 19th-century whaling industry by showcasing the practice’s economic potential to foreign visitors.

A Unique Stopover

Break up your trip across the Atlantic with an extended layover off the beaten path. Flights from Boston and New York take you directly to the archipelago; following your voyage, you can continue on to places like Paris and Lisbon.

Embrace the Serenity of the Shoulder Season

Spring in the Azores brings mild weather and a stunning burst of wildflowers in full bloom. Plus, the season sees a fraction of the tourists that come during the summer peak.

A Leader in Sustainable Travel

Whaling was banned in the Azores in 1987; local knowledge was then used to inform whale watching, which you’ll do in the company of Azorean spotters and a marine biologist. Sustainability initiatives are now widespread here, with three islands—Corvo, Graciosa and Flores—earning recognition as UNESCO Biosphere Reserves.
